

CONTEMPORARY ARTISTS

CAROLINE ROSE KAUFMAN USA

Caroline Rose Kaufman combines a range of colors, textures and history and is often working with recycled fabric. Her work is often inspired by the textures of nature, the colors of a landscape and the light of a particular season. Traditional weave patterns and structures are used in her work in a way that is both playful and surprising. Her work has been featured in galleries and museums around the world and she lives in New York City.

www.carolinrose.com

MARIYANN TALIA PAU Australia

Artist and writer Mariyann Talia Pau explores the traditional and contemporary of her culture, often using recycled materials. Her work is often inspired by the textures of nature, the colors of a landscape and the light of a particular season. Traditional weave patterns and structures are used in her work in a way that is both playful and surprising. Her work has been featured in galleries and museums around the world and she lives in New York City.

www.mariyann.com

SIMONE HODGKINSON UK

Simone Hodgkinson's work is often inspired by the textures of nature, the colors of a landscape and the light of a particular season. Traditional weave patterns and structures are used in her work in a way that is both playful and surprising. Her work has been featured in galleries and museums around the world and she lives in New York City.

www.simone.com

LUISA CUBA Peru

Luisa Cuba's work is often inspired by the textures of nature, the colors of a landscape and the light of a particular season. Traditional weave patterns and structures are used in her work in a way that is both playful and surprising. Her work has been featured in galleries and museums around the world and she lives in New York City.

www.luisa.com

